

PULITZER A SUICIDE

BROTHER OF PUBLISHER OF NEW YORK WORLD USES POISON AND BULLET.

WAS IN FEAR OF INSANITY

Long a Sufferer From Nervous Disorder Which Led Him to End Life—Found by His Physician.

Vienno, Austria.—Albert Pulitzer, brother of Joseph Pulitzer, the proprietor of the New York World, driven nearly to madness by a nervous disorder, committed suicide in the Grand hotel here by taking poison and then shooting himself through the head.

Mr. Pulitzer and his servants were occupying an elaborate suite in the Grand hotel and the sick man was under the almost constant care of Dr. Jacob Pollak. With Mr. Pulitzer, in addition to two servants, was Count Mikorsky, his secretary.

Late Sunday night Mr. Pulitzer dispatched all three on errands. Some hours afterward Dr. Pollak called and found the door of his patient's room locked. Fearing a tragedy, the physician had the door broken open. Pulitzer's body was seen stretched on the floor in front of a mirror. A pool of blood had formed from a wound in the head. Dr. Pollak examined the body and said that death had been made doubly sure by the administration of poison before shooting. Dr. Pollak said:

"Mr. Pulitzer has been my patient a number of years. He suffered terribly from nervousness and feared that he would go insane. His mania was that he was being persecuted and he feared every one."

Mr. Pulitzer was wealthy. His brother has been notified.

YOUTHFUL LAND HUNTERS

The Majority in South Dakota Registration Are Young Men and Women.

Aberdeen, S. D.—The opening of the registration booths on the Cheyenne river and the Standing Rock Indian reservations in South Dakota was attended with all the characteristic eagerness of a multitude of people for new lands, and an hour had no sooner passed than about 1,800 registrations had been made at the six different registration centers.

The center of the rush seems to be at Mobridge, the nearest city to the reservation; Aberdeen, the headquarters of the government, and Pierre, the capital of South Dakota. Smaller crowds were reported at Bismarck, N. D., and Lemmon and Lebeau, S. D. The crowds were notably composed of young men and a few young women, one of each saying that they would be wed if either the one or the other would get a lucky number.

WHERE THEY LEARN ECONOMY
Matron Knew What She Was About When She Went to Engage Maid.

The manager of the employment agency was used to hearing women in search of maids ask applicants all sorts of queer questions, says the New York Tribune, but this matron made him mildly curious. Of 14 girls in turn she had inquired: "Have you worked in a minister's family?" None of them had. "Too bad," said the matron to the manager. "None of these girls will do."

"May I ask," said the manager, "why you are anxious to know if these girls have worked in ministers' families?" "Why, the fact is, we're very hard up just now," said the matron, candidly. "I want a girl who knows how to economize, and those who have worked in clergymen's families, I've discovered, have learned that lesson."

On a Time Limitation.
In spite of the reputation for latitudinarianism he gained from his early trial for heresy, the late Prof. Jowett of Oxford was intolerant of pretentiousness and shallow conceit. One self-satisfied undergraduate met the master one day. "Master," he said, "I have searched everywhere in all philosophies, ancient and modern, and nowhere do I find the evidence of a God." "Mr. —," replied the master, after a shorter pause than usual, "if you don't find a God by five o'clock this afternoon you must leave this college."

Feeding Farm Hands.
Every farmer's wife knows what tremendous appetites farm hands usually have; but while they eat well they work well, too. Here's a good suggestion about feeding farm hands. Give them plenty of Quaker Oats. A big dish of Quaker Oats porridge with sugar and cream or milk is the greatest breakfast in the world for a man who needs vigor and strength for a long day's work. The man that eats Quaker Oats plentifully and often is the man who does good work without excessive fatigue. There is a sustaining quality in Quaker Oats not found in other foods, and for economy it is at the head of the list. Besides the regular size packages Quaker Oats is packed in large size family packages, with and without china.

Guess Where She Is From.
The head of the house had been ill for many months, and had lost his appetite entirely. "I can't seem to fix anything that he'll enjoy and he hardly eats anything," the mistress was saying to the maid, who was a new arrival from the old country. "That's always the way," returned the girl. "They're all the same, them invalids. All they want is nothing at all, and then when you bring it to them they don't eat it."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.
As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from a reputable physician, as the damage they will do is too great to be paid for by temporary relief. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Repatriate in the Bright Family.
"The newspapers are making a great stir about men's disinclination to marry," remarked Mrs. Bright. "The Bible says there are no marriages in heaven," commented Mr. B. "And what has that to do with us?" Bright laughed. "Perhaps they are figuring on having a little heaven on earth."

The Grouchy Man.
She—There's Mrs. Toozle. She seems quite reconciled to the death of her first husband. He—Yes; but I'm afraid that her second never will be.—Illustrated Bits.

When a man begins to tell a woman about his past love affairs he is planning to add another to the list.

HAVING FUN WITH A BANKER

Practical Joke That Doubtless Was More Appreciated by the Player Than the Victim.

Councilman F. A. Drew is fond of playing practical jokes on William H. Lee, president of the Merchants-Laclede National bank. Mr. Drew was for years a director in Mr. Lee's bank. While the bankers were waging their recent war upon prohibition, Mr. Drew late one night rang up Mr. Lee at his home and represented that he was a reporter assigned to get Mr. Lee's views on the situation.

Mr. Lee complained somewhat bitterly on being called out of bed at that hour of night to give an interview, but finally got warmed up to the subject and for 30 minutes pictured the desolation that would result in St. Louis if Missouri went dry.

"Let me see," said Mr. Drew at the conclusion of the interview, "you are Mr. William H. Lee, whisky man, aren't you?"

"No," snapped Mr. Lee. "I am Mr. William H. Lee, the banker."

"Oh," said Mr. Drew, apologetically, "I am very sorry, but I wanted to talk to Mr. Lee the whisky expert, and not Mr. Lee the financier."

Mr. Drew hung up the receiver before the explosion occurred on the other end of the wire.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

CHILD ATE CUTICURA OINTMENT.

Spread Whole Box of It on Crackers—Not the Least Injury Resulted.

Cuticura Thus Proven Pure and Sweet.

A New York friend of Cuticura writes: "My three year old son and heir, after being put to bed on a trip across the Atlantic, investigated the stateroom and located a box of graham crackers and a box of Cuticura Ointment. When a search was made for the box, it was found empty and the kid admitted that he had eaten the contents of the entire box spread on the crackers. It cured him of a bad cold and I don't know what else."

No more conclusive evidence could be offered that every ingredient of Cuticura Ointment is absolutely pure, sweet and harmless. If it may be safely eaten by a young child, none but the most beneficial results can be expected to attend its application to even the tenderest skin or youngest infant. Potter Drug & Chem. THE VERY SOUL OF TRAGEDY

Recital of Wrong Calculated to Draw Tears from the Eyes of a Graven Image.

Some miscreant, unresponsive to the beauties of nature and of the sweet charm evoked by the combination of two friends, a starry sky and a broad expanse of moonlit water, some rank materialist whose phlegmatic disposition was never stirred at a philanthropic act, some petty seeker after gain, some rogue, has stolen the broad, comfortable bench so fittingly placed on the Mulberry street wharf by Harry J. Arnold and Robert King. At least the bench has disappeared, and all that meets one's eyes upon the green sward are the two upright posts that supported the back of the seat. No more can lovesick youth stray to its soothing recesses and gaze upon the silvery moon, regent of the night, likening her in his ecstasy to his lady fair. No more, alas, can betrothed pair seek its secrecy and drink the love-light from each other's eyes, silent but for the words their souls speak through their optics. Again, alas, no more can melancholy philosopher, disgusted with the ways of men, meander to its sequestered place and find companionship only in the placid, smooth running stream and the limitless universe above. In short, all the pleasures derived from this convalescence are gone, and we will hereafter be forced to stand or sit on the edge of the wharf and let our feet dangle.—Bristol Correspondent Doylestown Republican.

Would Find Use for It.

After a day and a night spent in answering telephone calls from people who wanted the latest news from Peary and Dr. Cook, the secretary of one of the arctic clubs had retired for a well-earned rest, when the persistent phone bell rang again. A voice at the other end said:

"Do you want the ambulance sent right over?"

"What ambulance?" roared the irate secretary.

"Why, the one you sent for."

"I sent for no ambulance."

"You lie!"

The secretary gasped, then he screamed into the phone:

"Send it as soon as possible, and you come over, too, and I'll send you back in it!"

"Then why," howled the indignant youth, referring hastily to divers memoranda in his pocket diary, "did you eat up a total of 65 boxes of chocolates I bought you during the past year if you didn't love me?"

"Because," she said, with a rapt expression on her lovely features, "I do love chocolate."

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of known composition and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.
